PACKAGING

Language table

The most important product details in up to 20 languages facilitate identification and also open up international sales opportunities. Your advantage: less effort, more time for business.

EANs

The designed EANs show the contents at first glance – and enable sales via cash register systems.

Icons

The easy to understand icons show the most important features at a glance – number of layers, rolls or single sheets and dimensions. A guidance system for better orientation. On nearly all sides of the product packaging.

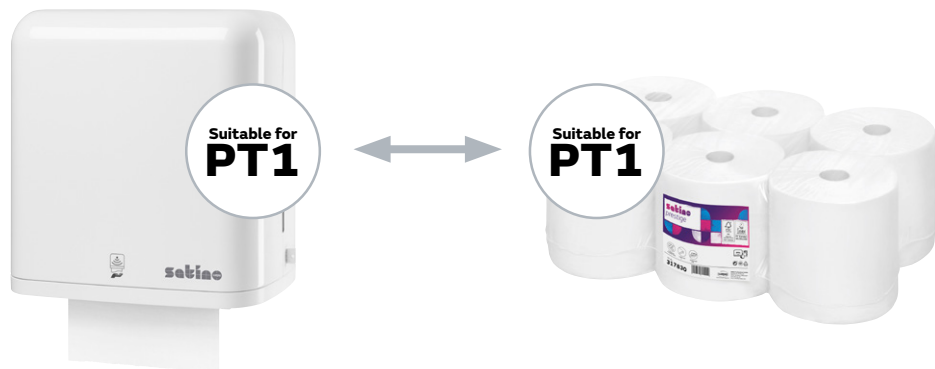

Carrying handle

All Satino by WEPA prestige toilet paper bags have a carrying handle. This makes each pack easy to transport and ready to grab at any time – for example on service and cleaning trolleys or in the warehouse.

Friendly packaging

At Satino by WEPA we have reduced all packaging to a minimum. Foils for kitchen rolls as well as comfort and smart toilet paper contain a natural filler. This reduces crude oil consumption and CO₂ emissions by 12 %. With proper disposal, these foils are 100 % recyclable.

Coding

With this coding you'll always find the matching Satino dispenser for your Satino product – and vice versa. No long searches, no wrong purchases: ensuring greater efficiency and paying off in the ordering process.

Push&Lift – "easy open"

Kitchen rolls and toilet rolls as well as tissue boxes make handling particularly easy thanks to Easy Open: the highly practical perforation facilitates opening and product removal and minimises the risk of injury. Cutters, scissors or other tools are thus superfluous.

The boxes of Satino by WEPA paper tissues also have an easy-open-and-carry function – so everyone involved has hygiene firmly under control.

DISPENSER SOLUTIONS

Well thought out down to the last detail: Satino by WEPA dispenser solutions

Clear design, user convenience and sophisticated functionalities: Satino dispensers combine all the qualities that make modern hygiene pleasant and safe. Whether in washrooms, offices, workshops or restaurants – wherever dispenser systems are needed they perform their duties reliably.

The entire dispenser range scores points with maximum economy and easy handling for users and service staff, as well as with practical details such as the configurable lock system and the mounting plate.

The illustrated instructions for use are understandable internationally, self-explanatory and provide quick information on topics such as installation, the locking mechanism, filling, and replacing the design ring.

Securely good service

Thanks to a lateral and easy-to-reach twist lock, Satino by WEPA dispensers can be opened easily and conveniently, leaving both hands free for simple and quick filling. The universal socket key fits the entire Satino dispenser series.

The lock can be converted into a permanent lock in just a few simple steps: attach the lock ring from the inside and the key is permanently locked in the dispenser.

Wall mounting made easy

The Satino mounting plate makes the robust dispensers a permanently clean and simultaneously flexible solution: position the mounting plate, mark and drill the boreholes, screw on the mounting plate and attach the Satino dispenser. Thanks to the mounting plate, existing drill holes can be used again, so no new drilling is needed. If the dispenser is replaced, e.g. in the event of an update or vandalism, the mounting plate simply remains on the wall.

And in case drilling is not an option: all Satino dispensers feature three to four dedicated areas on the back for applying industrial glue (follow manufacturer's instructions!).

Individuality through colour: the Satino design rings

The interchangeable design rings from Satino by WEPA allow individual design options – and carry corporate colours right into the washroom.

Design rings also provide colour and orientation in everyday hygiene: three standard colours consisting of anthracite, blue and sand are available from stock. We offer 13 further special colours for orders from 20 boxes upwards (corresponding to 200 design rings). All dispensers are factory-supplied with a white ring; complete pallets come ex-works with a coloured design ring.

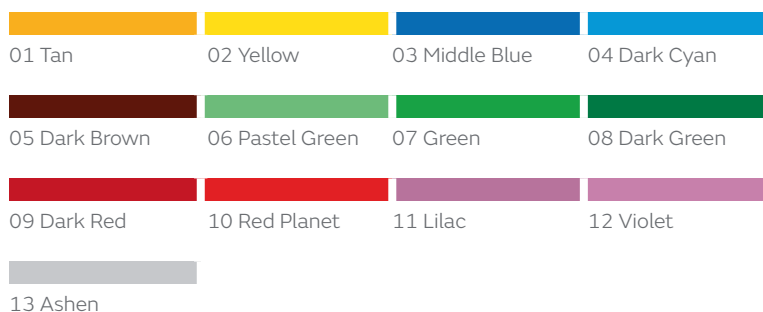

Exchanging the rings is also child's play: just open the dispenser, loosen the design ring and attach the new ring.

Sustainable hygiene with Satino by WEPA

Professional hygiene from Satino by WEPA preserves the quality of life and ensures that we live healthier and work safer – because this is also part of the wide area of sustainability.

In everything we do, the focus is on people: the users who benefit from safe and reliable hygiene in their everyday lives. This applies to our customers, with whom we maintain a trusting relationship, and who can rely on our expertise at all times, and our employees: with their respect, commitment and awareness of sustainability they are a decisive factor in our success – and yours.

Responsibility for the environment

We always have the environment in mind. It determines our actions, our products and their manufacture. As a consequence, we consistently focus on the sustainable and economical use of resources as well as environmentally friendly production. Our hygiene papers are largely based on 100% recycled fibre. For products made of cellulose, this is sourced from sustainable forestry and is mainly FSC® certified. When it comes to packaging we also always aim for the most sustainable solution, thus measurably reducing CO₂ emissions and the use of fossil raw materials.

Balancing profitability and ecology

Sustainability however also means a balance between economy and ecology. By implementing a cross-location energy efficiency programme we consistently work to optimise our processes and reduce energy and water requirements. As part of the Lean & Green initiative, we also aim to cut CO₂ emissions in the logistics sector. This is how we create the conditions for fair competition: with prices in line with the market and with high quality products that unite economy with ecology.

Professional hygiene for more sustainability and a better life: every day, we live by this standard with our Satino by WEPA products, services and pioneering ideas.

OUR CERTIFICATIONS

A plus for the environment, a plus for your sales – for example in tenders from public bodies.

FSC® and PEFC: for all WEPA locations as well as products made of cellulose and recovered materials

Blue Angel: for select products from recycled fibre

EU Ecolabel: for our cellulose and recovered quality products

ISO 9001, ISO 14001 and ISO 50001: all WEPA production sites in Europe

IFS Household and Care certification: selected WEPA sites

The plus for hand hygiene: Satino paper towels

Water, soap and paper towels: the triad for effective, day-to-day hand hygiene. Drying your hands after washing is essential – and not least because any remaining germs can thrive and multiply on damp hands.

Multiple reasons speak for paper towels

Paper towels have many advantages. As shown by a survey, paper towels are the most popular method among consumers for drying hands.

But according to studies it is also the most hygienic, because paper towels come out of the dispenser clean and are only used once. Germs that were still clinging to damp hands are removed by friction during drying; airflow dryers, on the other hand, swirl remaining microorganisms from the hands into the room and onto surfaces.

Towel paper is also highly versatile: if necessary it can be used to turn off the tap, operate the door handle or simply pick up spilled liquids. In any case, it ends up in the waste and is then professionally disposed of.

Optimum hygiene for every requirement

Whether single sheet or roll, cellulose or recycled, tissue or crepe: Satino by WEPA paper towels combine hygiene with economy and comfort with environmental friendliness – for every need, every demand and in environments beyond the washroom.

PAPER TOWEL ROLL SYSTEM

Satino Air freshener gel

Eco-friendly hygiene without synthetic polymers

Satino air fresheners, liquid soaps and foam soaps

Synthetic polymers are substances known as microplastics in solid form. In liquid or gel form, they are used for example in liquid soaps and air fresheners. At Satino, we prefer to do without them – for the sake of the environment.

Microplastics are at the tip of everyone's tongue. The harmful plastic particles can be detected in bodies of water and oceans, from the Arctic all the way to high mountains. Wherever they are: they potentially end up in the animal food chain and ultimately in us humans.

- ✓ Free from microplastics/synthetic polymers
- ✓ Free from parabens
- ✓ Vegan
- ✓ Without propellant
- ✓ EU Ecolabel certified

What many people are unaware of: microplastics means nothing other than synthetic polymers in solid, insoluble form. In liquid or gel form or in solution, these synthetic polymers are present in many skin care products, cleaning agents and detergents. They are also used in foam soaps, liquid soaps and air fresheners as binding agents and film formers. At Satino, we know that it's possible to do things without these critical ingredients.

Freshness and hygiene with a clear conscience

Our air fresheners as well as our foam and liquid soaps are completely free of microplastics or "liquid microplastics", i.e. synthetic polymers. All products are free of preservatives (parabens), are vegan and bear the EU Ecolabel.

Satino Air freshener liquid

Satino hand disinfection: solutions for the public space

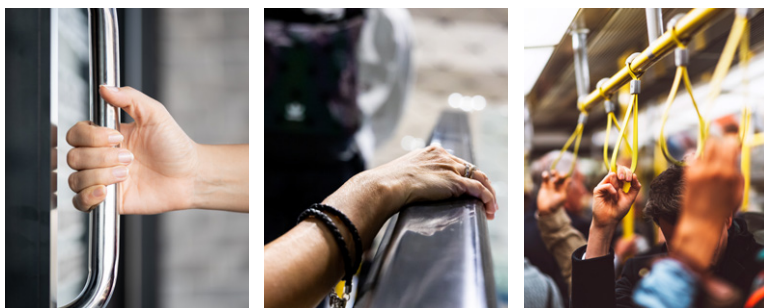

Wherever many people come and go or meet, good hand hygiene is indispensable. Washing hands with soap and water is one of the most effective ways to remove dirt or germs and protect yourself and others from infection.

But particularly in public areas, the possibility to do so is often missing. Whether airports, trade shows, retail, office buildings, production halls, hotel lobbies or retirement homes: countless contact surfaces such as handrails, door handles and light switches pose a risk of infection – with far-reaching consequences for every individual and society as a whole.

In public spaces, quick hand disinfection is thus an alternative to hand washing: it can reduce the risk of infection and is an important component of hand hygiene.

With its new hand disinfection range, Satino is now ready for duty on location – wherever good hand hygiene is flexibly and quickly needed.

The hand sanitisers and soaps from Satino come in practical, ready-to-use cartridge bags – our captive disposable system consisting of bag and pump for our universal Clean&Care dispenser system – or in 5-litre canisters for the extra large disinfection columns.

Capable systems: the advantages for you

- ✓ Closed, hygienic system of disposable pump and bag
- ✓ Quick, clean bag replacement
- ✓ No time-consuming and cost-intensive preparation of the pumps
- ✓ No re-filling necessary
- ✓ No risk from handling flammable liquids
- ✓ Only cleaning of the dispenser surface required
- ✓ Lockable dispenser – system secured against theft

Changing in 10 seconds.

"Limited virucidal" – what does this mean?

Virucidal literally means "virus-killing". "Limited virucidal" disinfectants are specifically effective against enveloped viruses, which are viruses surrounded by an envelope of lipids (fats). These include influenza, herpes, hepatitis, Ebola, HI and Corona viruses.

According to which standards are the disinfectants tested?

EN 1500

The European standard describes the methodical procedure for hygienic hand disinfection – this ensures that all products must undergo the same efficacy test.*

EN 13624

The European standard for the evaluation of fungicidal (fungus-killing) efficacy.

EN 14476

The European standard for the evaluation of efficacy against viruses.

WHAT IS RFID?

RFID is the abbreviation for radio frequency identification, i.e. identification via electromagnetic waves. Data is recorded and transmitted via a transponder (a radio tag). RFID systems are used, for example, to identify animals, to locate vehicles or to measure filling levels.
