Holistic hygiene at the highest level

Good hygiene does not tolerate any compromises. Because today we all expect a safe, intelligently planned and at the same time pleasant washroom experience outside of our own homes – in small or large premises, in everyday working situations and educational surroundings as well as on the road.

We at Satino by WEPA enable you to meet these high expectations and set new standards in hygiene. Because we don't make any compromises either when it comes to hygiene. From hygiene papers to dispenser systems, from sanitisers and soaps to washroom accessories, our innovative products make an impression with their efficiency and sustainability, and inspire thanks to design and convenience. And their development is founded on scientific findings that make day-to-day hygiene even safer.

We think about the details while keeping the big picture in mind. In this way, we ensure premium, sustainable hygiene experiences perfectly matched to the respective requirements and optimally tailored to the wishes of your customers.

Sustainable hygiene with Satino by WEPA

Professional hygiene from Satino by WEPA preserves the quality of life and ensures that we live healthier and work safer – because this is also part of the wide area of sustainability.

In everything we do, the focus is on people: the users who benefit from reliable hygiene in their everyday lives, our customers, with whom we maintain a trusting relationship and who can rely on our expertise at all times, and our employees: with their respect, commitment and awareness of sustainability, they are a decisive factor in our success – and yours.

Responsibility for the environment

We always have the environment in mind. It determines our actions, our products and their manufacture. As a consequence, we consistently focus on the sustainable and economical use of resources as well as environmentally friendly production. Our hygiene papers are largely based on 100% recycled fibres. For products made of cellulose, this is sourced from sustainable forestry and is mainly FSC®-certified. When it comes to packaging, we also always aim for the most sustainable solution, thus measurably reducing carbon emissions and the use of fossil raw materials.

Balancing economy and ecology

However, sustainability also means striking a balance between economy and ecology. By implementing an energy efficiency programme across all our sites, we consistently work to optimise our processes and reduce energy and water requirements. As part of the Lean & Green initiative, we also aim to cut carbon emissions in the logistics sector. This is how we create the conditions for fair competition: with market-oriented prices and with high-quality products that unite economy and ecology.

Professional hygiene for greater sustainability and a better life: we meet this Satino by WEPA aspiration every day with our products, services and future-oriented ideas.

The plus for hand hygiene: Satino paper towels

Water, soap and paper towels: the trio for effective, day-to-day hand hygiene. Drying your hands after washing is essential – not least because any remaining germs can thrive and multiply on damp hands.

Multiple reasons speak in favour of paper towels

- ✓ A survey has shown that hand towels are the most popular method of drying hands.
- ✓ Studies show that hand towels are the most hygienic way to dry hands. This is because paper towels come out of the dispenser clean and are only used once. Germs that were still clinging to damp hands are removed by friction during drying; airflow dryers, on the other hand, swirl remaining microorganisms from the hands into the room and onto surfaces.
- ✓ Practice shows that paper towels are versatile. If needed, they can be used to turn off the tap, operate the door handle or simply absorb spilled liquids. Whatever the case, they end up in the waste and are then disposed of professionally.

Optimum hygiene for all requirements

Whether a single sheet or a roll, cellulose or recycled, tissue or crêpe paper, Satino by WEPA paper towels combine hygiene with cost-effectiveness, comfort and environmental friendliness – for every need, every demand and in settings outside of the washroom too.

Satino BagPacks: hygienic, practical and environmentally friendly!

- ✓ Cost-saving
in transport, logistics and handling.
- ✓ Maximum hygiene
Optimum protection against moisture and wetness.
- ✓ Practical perforation
for quick opening of the pack.
- ✓ Durability
for easy shipping via parcel service.
- ✓ Sturdy handle
Two or more bags can be easily carried.
- ✓ Multi-purpose
Empty bags can be used as bin liners.

Low waste volume – bags are 100% recyclable.

Polyethylene (PE) bags contain no plasticisers or heavy metals, are groundwater-neutral, burn residue-free and can be recycled for energy. BagPacks are 60% PCR and 40% virgin PE.

Satino air freshener liquid

Hand sanitising with Satino: solutions for public spaces

Wherever many people come and go or meet, good hand hygiene is indispensable. Washing hands with soap and water is one of the most effective ways to remove dirt or germs and protect yourself and others from infection.

But in public areas in particular, the possibility to do so is often lacking. Whether at airports or trade shows, in retail, office buildings, production halls, hotel lobbies or retirement homes, countless contact surfaces such as handrails, door handles and light switches pose a risk of infection – with far-reaching consequences for every individual and society as a whole.

In public spaces, quick hand sanitising is therefore an alternative to hand washing. It can reduce the risk of infection and is an important part of hand hygiene.

With its new hand sanitiser range, Satino is now ready for duty on location – wherever good hand hygiene is flexibly and quickly needed.

Captive dispensers – hygienic, service-friendly, economical

The Satino hand sanitisers and soaps come in two sizes in a practical, ready-to-use stand-up pouch – the captive single-use system with an integrated pump for our universal Clean&Care dispensers.

- ✓ Self-contained system comprising a single-use pump and pouch – drip-free dispensing, optimum dosing, quick and clean replacement
- ✓ Maximum hygiene: integrated pump prevents the contaminations that occur with refillable dispensers
- ✓ Economical – no decanting necessary, no time-consuming and costly dispenser pump preparation
- ✓ Little waste: volume reduced by approximately 93% when empty; 1,000 ml pouch weighs just 32 grams
- ✓ Unbeatable discharging of contents – a mere 5 g remain in the 1,000 ml stand-up pouch
- ✓ No risk from handling flammable liquids
- ✓ Only cleaning of the dispenser surface required
- ✓ Lockable dispenser – system secured against theft

Replacement in ten seconds.

‘Limited virucidal activity’ – what does this mean?

Virucidal literally means ‘virus-killing’. Disinfectants with ‘limited virucidal activity’ are specifically effective against enveloped viruses, which are viruses surrounded by an envelope of lipids (fats). These include influenza, herpes, hepatitis, Ebola and HI viruses as well as coronaviruses.

In accordance with which standards are the disinfectants tested?

EN 1500

This European standard describes the hygienic hand sanitising method, ensuring that all products are subjected to the same efficacy test.*

EN 13624

The European standard for the assessment of fungicidal efficacy.

EN 14476

The European standard for the assessment of efficacy against viruses.

What is RFID?

RFID is the abbreviation for radio frequency identification, i.e. identification via electromagnetic waves. Data is recorded and transmitted via a transponder (a radio tag). RFID systems are used, for example, to identify animals, to locate vehicles or to measure filling levels.

* With 3 ml per prescribed use.
